

THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE
KNOXVILLE
GRADUATE SCHOOL

Best Practices in Teaching Program

Spring 2016

Lindsay Young Auditorium

Rm. 101, Hodges Library • 5:00pm-6:30pm

The Best Practices in Teaching program provides opportunities to discuss teaching-related issues with new and experienced faculty and peers from across the university.

- January 20 Introduction to Best Practices in Teaching; What You Need to Know About UT Students; Experienced GTAs
- January 27 Preparing a Good Syllabus; Constructing a Teaching Portfolio
- February 3 Addressing Classroom Expectations and Civility
- February 10 How to Incorporate Writing Assignments and Oral Presentations in Your Classes
- February 17 Library Resources for Teaching and Technology in the Classroom
- February 24 Diversity and Inclusion for Teaching
- March 2 Making Mentoring Work for You in Your Academic/Research/Professional Career; Wrap-up of Best Practices in Teaching

For more information, please contact the Graduate School:

*Graduate School
University of Tennessee, Knoxville
111 Student Services
865-974-2475
gradschool@utk.edu*

Register Online!

<https://tiny.utk.edu/bpit-register>